Many Great Empires have arisen and disintegrated, usually not from external military conquest but from forces operating from within. Empires like the Roman Empire, or even the once great and powerful Union of Soviet Socialist Republic (USSR) and even the great British Empire. Today the United States is undergoing a lot of conflicting ideological positions, but instead of allowing old fashionable civil debate of ideas without destruction of people that are involved, statues and building or properties are being destroyed in the name of opposition, especially from those that says they oppose fascism and lack of tolerance: the left. This is the opinion of a registered non-affiliated immigrant citizen.

Introduction

America is heading towards a serious totalitarian fascist dictatorship led by the left that think they alone own the superior quality of knowledge than others. All people with opposite thoughts that refuses to accept their monolithic beliefs must be labelled and destroyed like the Google, Facebook etc that are now involved in censorship of speeches on their sites, or and like the last regime (Obama's) did, using government agencies like Department Homeland Security (DHS), Internal Revenue Services (IRS), National Security Agency (NSA) etc to collect information about citizen especially those in opposition to force them or crush them! The 1st and 4th amendments meant to ensure real freedom of thoughts and from self-incrimination, have remain under constant attack, however, the leftist elitists while seeking to have such privileges daily seek to prevent others. For someone that suffered under ruling military dictatorship in his country of birth, Nigeria this writer knows how it feels not to have such freedom and security, reason why he enlisted in the U.S. military as E1 despite his level of educations on emigrating (after he won the Green card lottery) after his initial visit to the country as a PhD student. As things are now, just like the former Roman Empire that fell from within, the likelihood of the United States going same way is likely, if no change is effected, and would be worse than Venezuela or Mao Zedong Chinese and God help all the gullible ones pushing to silence opposite thoughts or beliefs. Since the resistance movements paid by certain forces in the left and establishment republicans are working very hard to see it come to past for selfish ends.

Bill of Rights and Freedom

The Bill of Rights ratified on December 15, 1791, was instituted by the founding fathers or members of this republic (as it was supposed to be), a unique document that set this republic apart from other countries to ensure that citizens have the freedom to exercise the ability to speak, worship, associate and ensure security without fear. Is this not what every human being desire for? The 1st amendment does not only protect citizens from only speeches people love, but also from speeches people hate or do not love. The founding fathers coming from living under a repressive, totalitarian fascist rulership of the British king, appreciate the situation where one cannot speak or associate without fear of reprisal from the King or even imprisonment or worst death. The Rights of the citizens, especially the 1st, 2nd and 4th amendments, are the earliest rights of humanity to be trampled upon by tyrants, totalitarian and dictatorship. Growing in Nigeria, it was common practice that when the Military takeover of government via a coup, and it's seldom bloodless, citizens' rights to speak freely, associate and not to be spied on by the government agents are usually the first to be suspended. Historical reports also support this, as this writer once read while studying civil studies and social studies then in elementary school in Nigeria, about the various world or countries' ideologies-communism or capitalism.

Attacking the Bills of Rights

Sadly, since migrating into the United States, this writer has seen these basic rights of humanity slowly but surely being eroded especially by people supposedly elected to preserve the Bill of Rights and Constitution, many of these politicians while openly professing their support for the Bill of Rights, insidiously push for the stripping of the Rights from the citizens just to please political ambitions or succumb to political correctness pressures! This has lately got to the point where integrity has been thrown into the wind more recently, since the left took over the media and government especially during the last administration between 2009-2016, they openly push for division of the people base on class, race and social status. The 44th president, Barrack Hassen Obama, openly campaigned in 2008 to "fundamentally" transform the country [1] in Columbia, Missouri, an agenda he rigorously and religiously pushes and advocated while in government and even when his party lost in 2016, he still asked his supporters to continue. Even, Hilary Clinton, the defeated presidential candidate of the 2016 election, also openly called for and be part of the “resistance” against the current president Trump [2], all because she and party lost an election and could not bring themselves to accept they lost to a person who is not a politician, so were the establishment republicans, who unlike the democratic party members only (save for few like Senator McCain), “stab” and frustrate every action of the current government secretly not openly.

President Obama’s ideology was not hidden, as he openly demonstrated his socialist/communist sympathetic biases, and also racial biases, like when he openly condemn the Massachusetts police even before he knew the “all details” of the case, or when he openly claim the death of a boy in Florida “could have been” his son, pushing his anti-police biases, supporting openly, the black racially biased groups like Black Lives Matter (BLM) or Black Panther Movement that were calling for the death of the police officers. Obama was wrong in the Ferguson case, but was never called out by the mainstream liberal media like CNN, a news network caught openly supporting a particular candidate against another at the last election, and has vowed to frustrated the current President [3] (Figure 1).

The country is currently witnessing antagonist of free speech against opponents with diverse views while saying they are for diversity running wild. The left-wing groups like the “Antifa” (Anti-fascists) or BLM groups have been protesting and even denying those with diverse view the opportunity to even debate or be allowed to deliver lecture in some universities, usually those controlled by liberals, like University of California, Berkeley, CA. They, the left and democratic party elitist members only tolerate speeches that are in line with their monolithic beliefs or ideas, others must be crushed or destroyed and prevented, classical characteristics of a tyrant or totalitarian dictator.

Recent report from the FOIA (Freedom of Information Act) requests by the “Judicial Watch” group, has exposed the suppression of the 4th amendment by the Obama’s administration alleging the involvement of key members of the administration with the spying and unmasking of private citizens, including the current president and “unmasking” of citizens via ears dropping of citizens just to subjugate them, or to control them, by using government instrument of intelligence like the National Security Agency(NSA), Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) or Federal Bureau of Investigation(FBI). The FBI was also just reported to have lied (saying there were no record of Clinton-Lynch tarmac meeting) when the American Centre for Law and Justice (ACLJ) requested for documents about the Clinton-Lynch plane meeting [4,5]. The IRS was also reported to have been employed by the Obama’s administration to oppress citizens that belong to the “Tea party groups” that are conservatives in ideology, parallel with those of the progressive/regressive leftist democratic party leadership or politicians (Figure 2).

Before the 2016 presidential election, the Republic started to witness increasing lack of tolerance in polity and citizens, increasing from the last regime push to divide us the people via the color of our skin or the people chosen to have sex with! The Obama’s administration seriously succeeded in the division of the people instead of unifying, especially for someone whose parents were of the African and U.S. Caucasian origins. Post-2016 election, the intolerance especially from those on the left has seen a tremendous increase, ranging from the denial of conservative speakers by the university leaders/students, to speak in their universities to openly calling for the assassination of the president. We all watch the Antifa (anti-fascist), with the BLMs all going on riot and destruction of public properties with the public law enforcement agencies like the police, standing back and watch while these happens, just like in Ferguson, Baltimore etc riots during the last regime.

Since the assumption of office as President of the U.S. by Mr. Trump, the boldness and audacious comments and insults from the extreme left groups and certain elements of the republican right (many of whom never gave the president any chance to win, and so never supported him), has known no bounds. The liberal media has remained unrelenting, with constant opposition to everything Mr. President says or did. The democratic Congress members have openly called for the impeachment of the president, less than 2 weeks into his presidency, as news outlet like the New York Times (NYT) has even promised to go or do whatever it takes to resist him and they have, like CNN has been found to have made many fabricated news (fake new-news that were never news) just to accuse him for what they gave Obama passes on.

Last weekend, August 11, 2017, there was another riot incidence with an act of terror in Charlottesville, Virginia State, a thing (riots) that has become an almost daily occurrence since president Trump came to power with the left calling for resistance. The incidence led to what we once heard from the former Chief of Staff to Obama, now Mayor of Chicago, Mr. Rahm Emmanuel, who once said “Never allow a crisis go to waste,” so the left as expected has now capitalized on this to attack the president once again. Like the leftist, the establishment republican politicians and the Hollywood antagonist to the president, as also use same crises to accomplished their mission of wanting to unseat or ridicule the president. Obvious is the fact that despite the presence of the left-wing supported groups like the “Antifa” and BLM movement caught in camera fighting with the “White nationalist” movement that was given the permit by the democratic mayor of the city, (but not the others left wing anarchists), the leftists and their supporters in the media plus republicans in names, like Senator McCain, Cory Gardner etc accused the president of not calling out the White nationalist by name as Nazi group, while they refuse to report the presence and activities of their groups in the mayhems. So, who is the factually tolerant or honest party here, the “coup plotters” resistance or Mr. President that speak honestly from the heart, not like politicians who only speak for an item once their paid advisers have sampled the poll to determine the direction of the “people” for just political point? Rightly stated on Monday by the president as he tried to please the left-wing fraction in his administration (this writer was disappointed), he finally called out by name the Nazi, white extremist group as evil, yet the same group or resistance against the elected president, that had criticized him for not saying the name “White Nazi”, were not still pleased with him-Mr. Trump. Why? Because he had the boldness and integrity to pointed out the fact that, there were other groups in the mayhem, that the left liberal media has refused to mention in this discussion, and reinstating that, the blame should fall on all groups?

This incident at Charlottesville and the aftermath crystallizes the intolerance of the left wing, liberal-biased dominated media and Hollywood celebrities plus the democratic party with the support of their financiers, now pushing to actualize president Obama’s goal via the communist leftist Saul Alinsky tactics to fundamentally transform this republic into what the founding fathers never dreamt off: a land where the people can’t be free to speak freely nor think independently, unless told by the elitists, about what to think, how to think or when to speak and what to say! This is a complete subjugation of the people into a state of slavery, in fact a slave is still worthy of some freedom, but in their utopian myopia delusion, in their dream republic, citizens must be controlled by the “superior” elite.

The leftist groups are already in rampage destroying statues of U.S. citizens who fought on the other sides of the civil war, fought among brothers and soldiers who were once under the same military, but fate brought them to killing each other. Yet these elitists sponsored groups continued unchallenged by the self-righteous media or the police in these democratic party rule places or cities. I ask, why does the left always have the right to do whatever they want, say whatever they want, determine or dictate what every other citizen must ACCEPT etc? That is, they live by different rules or laws and yet majority of the citizens seems to be oblivious of the danger ahead?

Position

This writer has seen this drama before, as stated above, he was born in a country then controlled by military authoritarians and dictators that tells the people what to say, who get what and practically took away press freedom, slightly close to what Obama’s administration did to Fox news Mr. James Rosen, when they spied on him and tried to “shut him down” and the Fox News Network (video.foxnews.com 03/05/2017 James Rosen describes being investigated by Obama admin). If great empires of the past like the Roman Empire could fall, the United States, the land most people seek to come to, like this writer for its freedom and Bill of Rights to ensure citizens freedom, can also fall. Our forefathers saw this and debated a lot to have the Bill of Right enshrined as part of our Republic documents and now it's being slowly eroded, to be replaced by the subjugated systems in repressive societies or countries like North Korea, Old Mao led China or Communist Union of Soviet Socialist Republic, Venezuela etc that many have fled from to the West to escape such systems, but the elitist and democratic party seek to take us backward, while countries under such utopia idea like Venezuela, are currently in chaos and economical depravity.

As this writer watches the media and rampages of the left-wing activist movements all over the country, destroying everything that has the similitude of link to slavery, with the law enforcement officers just standing back and do nothing, the words of an adage; that evil prevails when the good men or women refused to say or do nothing, comes to mind. The Bibles says we must speak out against evil and that just as the Almighty God corrects those that He loves, so do parents correct their children. For this reason, the writer speaks or writes, to warn those trampling on the Bill of Rights to force people to only do their selfish will. The citizens of the U.S. like our forefathers, wakeup, stand with the president of our time, who refuses to continue the falsehood perpetuated by the establishment politicians and their sponsors. A president who has invited those that have openly opposed him and even voted against him into his government, seeking their support to move the country forward, yet he is still being accused by his haters as White supremacist supporters, when he has been a businessman for so long supporting many of these politicians financially but no one accused him. Some have called him a Hitler, when he has employed and assisted many without seeking reward or public recognition. He remains the only republican that was able to win more votes from both democrats and independents and some republicans, yet he is accused of not condemning white extremists (another falsehood, as he has since 2000, disavowed white supremacist), while his accusers, remain silent of their support for a KKK grand wizard in their party (Senator Robert Byrd).

The writer is calling on all lovers of freedom, to stand up for and with our president and defend the U.S. Constitution and Bill of Rights. Refused the imposition of a totalitarian form of governance as demanded by those driven by politics, money and power above the upliftment of the general citizenry. Challenge via debate the elitist left and establishment conservatives or republicans, now attacking the president and trying to sabotage his mission to protect and defend the borders, economic and national security of this republic. The writer prays for God's grace, wisdom and protection for Mr. President and his family, and advices Mr. President, that he must remember what he promised "We the people" and not to succumb to the pressures of the left or right while he tries to "drain the swamp", but trust and verify EVERY WORD or supposed advices from many around him pretending to be more sensible.

Conclusion

Finally, the failure to oppose these excesses of the elitist left, will likely lead to an opposite reaction, or a counter reaction that may lead to sequences precipitating in another civil war. And once there is a civil war, the obvious consequent is a breakdown in security, a possible adverse effect on infrastructures, and ultimately health/food scarcity, and like in every other place where there are civil wars now like in Congo Republic, Syria etc, epidemic, break down in medical facility and access, deaths occur. Those that will suffer most from this fallout ultimately, will be the same common citizens many of whom are being used to carry out these scenes we see on the televisions daily of destructions in the name of "removing hateful slave owners' statues," as the financiers of these anarchy, would have flown out of the country to another country with their families. For those that have been cage before, will never want to return into same situation, similarly, people like the writer that has lived under a totalitarian regime pray not to see or leave this country like that for his children.
